

Abstract

Children is one of the precious things for the parent. The growth of the child is a one of the parent's responsibilities. There are some categories for animation film such as safe, careful, danger. The role of parent become a significant things due to the background and formulation of the problem, which is "How is parent interpersonal communication role in accompany their child to watch animation film at the television?". This research aimed to know the parent's communication role in accompany their child watching animation film, especially the animation film which is contain the positive value and educate children at Padukuhan Tambakbayan Yogyakarta. The method of this research is qualitative description. The data was analyzed qualitatively and arrange in a systematic form. The result of this research show that interpersonal communication take a significant role in a good family. Through the interpersonal communication, parent take the role to be main educator for child. That role was one of the efort to teach the child about the bassic educational and caring each other. Family communication patterns theory and the interaction influence the way child's growth. The threat of the parent's control in accompanying the child to watch animation film because of the lack of parent's understanding about the animation film, the paren's bussiness, and the internal factor of the children that won't to be controlled by the parent. The communication process between the parent and their child that not run-well giving impact for the parent's role.

Keyword : Parent and Child, the Parent's Role, Animation Film, Interpersonal Communication, Family