

ABSTRAK

Kerjasama energi yang dilakukan oleh Cina dengan Kazakhstan merupakan salah satu upaya Cina untuk memenuhi kebutuhan suplai energi, terutama suplai energi minyak bumi. Perkembangan ekonomi Cina yang begitu cepat, berbanding lurus dengan peningkatan konsumsi energi domestik yang tidak dapat diimbangi dengan peningkatan produksi dalam negeri. Dalam Kerjasama ini, Cina memberikan berbagai investasi, maupun Akuisisi saham perusahaan minyak nasional Kazakhstan. Pembangunan pipa minyak Kazakhstan-Cina Oil Pipeline (KCOP) merupakan salah satu bentuk kerjasama energi minyak yang penting bagi Cina, untuk menjamin suplai minyak dari Kazakhstan. Selain itu Cina memiliki berbagai kepentingan dalam Kerjasama Energi antara Cina-Kazakhstan yang akan menguntungkan Cina di bidang ekonomi, politik, maupun keamanan energi.

(FROM THE CHINESE PERSPECTIVE)

ABSTRACT

The energy cooperation undertaken by China with Kazakhstan is one of China's efforts to meet the needs of energy supply, especially the supply of oil energy. China's rapid economic development is directly proportional to the increase of domestic energy consumption which cannot be balanced by the increase of production. In this Energy Cooperation, China provides various investments, as well as Acquisition of shares of Kazakhstan national oil company. The construction of the Kazakhstan-China Oil Pipeline (KCOP) oil pipeline is one of the important forms of oil energy cooperation for China, to ensure the supply of oil from Kazakhstan. In addition, China has various interests in the Cooperation between China and Kazakhstan which will provide benefits to China in economic, political, and energy security.
