THE REASON FOR THE UNITED STATES AGGRESSION POLICY TO SYRIA
DURING DONALD TRUMP'S REIGN

ABSTRACT

This thesis discusses the reasons for US aggression policy to Syria during Donald Trump's reign. The Syrian conflict has made the United States take action by committing aggression to the conflict. The reason for the United States to carry out acts of aggression to the Syrian conflict is that there is support from within the United States which is an internal setting. Then the external setting of the United States of America to commit aggression to Syria namely the strengthening of Iran and Russia's influence in Syria, the defeat of ISIS in Syria, the United States wants to overthrow the Bashar Al-Assad Regime and the United States has economic interests in Syria namely security of the oil trade route in the Middle East.
