

THE ROLE OF INDONESIAN HUMANITARIAN ALLIANCE IN HANDLING ROHINGYA REFUGEES IN BANGLADESH AND MYANMAR

ABSTRACT

Since the occurrence of discrimination and human rights violations in Myanmar against the Rohingya Muslim community, most of the Rohingya Muslims have fled to several countries to seek protection so that there is a refugee crisis, one of them in Bangladesh. The deterioration in the conditions of refugees in refugee camps attracted the attention of many parties to help provide assistance to Rohingya Muslims. IHA (Indonesian Humanitarian Alliance) is an alliance of Indonesian humanitarian institutions which play a role in resolving the issue of Rohingya refugees. IHA has a mission and purpose to provide measurable and effective humanitarian assistance to Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh and Myanmar and to help build reconciliation between the two warring parties. This thesis will discuss the role of the IHA in handling Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh and Myanmar.
