ABSTRACT

This study was conducted with the aim of determining the influence of technology readiness, perceived ease of use, perceived usefulness, and perceived value on adoption intention in the use of the assistant AI feature in the DeepSeek application at UPN "Veteran" Yogyakarta. This study uses a quantitative method with the population being accounting students at UPN "Veteran" Yogyakarta who will use the Assistant AI feature in the DeepSeek application. The sampling technique used in this study is non-probability in the form of purposive sampling. In this study, the data collection method used a questionnaire that was distributed offline to 125 respondents which was measured using a likert scale. The analysis tool used is using SmartPLS 3 software. The results of the study showed that (1) technology readiness had an effect on Adoption Intention, (2) perceived ease of use had no effect on Adoption Intention, (3) perceived usefulness had no effect on Adoption Intention, and (4) perceived value had an effect on Adoption Intention.
