

The Analyze of Growth Rate of Economical Region in Kulon Progo Regency Pre-Construction in Daerah Istimewa Yogyakarta International Airport, supervised by Dwi Aulia Puspitaningrum and Vandrias Dewantoro. This research aims to analyze economic sector and growth classification economic region in Kulon Progo regency pre-construction international airport Daerah Istimewa Yogyakarta. And to deflection analyze of economical region in Kulon Progo regency with other region in Daerah Istimewa Yogyakarta pre-construction international airport. The method use is descriptive method. Method location selection with purposive methode. Sources of data derive from secondary data time series the year 2007 – 2012, from literature, Centre of Statistical Data, and administration agency in Kulon Progo regency. The result of this study show that growth rate of economic sector region in Kulon Progo regency pre-construction international airport Daerah Istimewa Yogyakarta is slow. The rate of economical growth slower because the average economic sector Kulon Progo worth negative, it indicates the average Kulon Progo regency economic sectors not include in the progressive group ($SN < 0$). Nevertheless, the economic sectors including with location advantages sector and specialization. The analyze of classification of region category in Kulon Progo regency on 2012 that Kulon Progo regency on IV quadrant with left behind region category. Growth level and per capita income Kulon Progo regency are below the average of the entire district in DIY. And the analyze of deflection economical growth Kulon progo regency with territory in DIY pre-construction international airport in 2007 – 2012 is not a deflection, means that the distribution of income in Kulon Progo regency evenly.