

ABSTRACT

This thesis discusses the barriers to increasing military cooperation between Indonesia and Singapore 2009-2014. Military cooperation between Indonesia and Singapore have not run stable, many challenges arise in military cooperation between Indonesia and Singapore. The purpose of this is to mengatahi peneitian the factors that hinder the improvement of military cooperation between Indonesia and Singapore. In this study, performed data collection is done by conducting library research techniques, and through internet sources.

Once the data is collected, the next is the process of data analysis. The analysis in this study uses an explanatory analysis, which describes the data that is collected and then perform the analysis.

Based on this research, there are several obstacles that a barrier increased military cooperation between Indonesia and Singapore. These constraints is Singapore's national interests, or the interests of the Indonesian national and historical factors.

Keywords: Barriers, Military, Indonesia, Singapore