

ABSTRACT

Global war on terrorism has been the main issue in United States of America since the 9/11 2001 incident. George W. Bush, the rule president at that time declared “war on terrorism” as one of the main foreign policy goal of United States. Every country that recognize by the united states as a terrorist country has been granted by some of the United States favour, such as economy aid, security aid, disaster reconciliation aid, arms transfer and military training.

Pakistan is one of the “terrorist” country that has been being a main object of United states foreign policy regarding war on terrorism. As a president of United States that replace George W. Bush administration, Obama keep in continue this war on terrorism foreign policy in Pakistan. By the Obama administration, United States have been maintain its diplomacy, and economic tools and strategy to ask Pakistan to rejoin in war on terrorism of America. By drone and CIA maneuver in Pakistan, Osama Bin Laden finally get captured and was killing by U.S NAVY SEAL in Abbothabat city at Pakistan.

This thesis discusses about the efforts of President Obama regarding to the war on terrorism policy in Pakistan.

Keywords : Policy, terrorism, Pakistan, America, and Obama.