

ABSTRACT

This research aims to determine about Involvement Kyoto Protocol in the handling of environmental damages pollution due to coal. Type of this research is qualitative descriptive analysis. This paper try to describe and explain about role Clean Development Mechanism in resolving pollution contamination which occurred at China's. Sources to be presented in this research is secondary sources. Sources obtained through literature review, either books, internet, ect. The sources analysis is quantitative analysis. The results showed that Kyoto Protocol does a good roles through do the advocate, Do the monitoring, research and evaluation, and renewable energy. They should be more care to the environment especially, because if its can't resolved and prevented, its would become big damage that can threat ecology and human being.